Why farmers go to reform farmers: SC panel member

Writes to CJ again, urging early release of committee's report on farm laws

AGENCIES
New Delhi, 23 November

Anil Ghumwat, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 10,000 farmers to Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "body" required agriculture reforms even after the repeal of the three farm laws.

He also wrote to the Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain at the earliest or authorise the committee to do so.

Meanwhile, the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM), the main body spearheading the farmers' agitation, has announced events to be held across the world on November 25 by the Indian diaspora as well as international farmers' organisations. These include a protest in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-in at Surrey in Canada in addition to a sleep-in at the Indian consulate in Paris. Similar events have also been planned in California, San Jose, Vienna and France.

On the reforms, Ghumwat said the farmers demand to make minimum support price (MSP) a legal guarantee and ensure procurement of all agri-crops at MSP is "not feasible and implementable".

WE WANT REFORMS. I AM GOING TO TRAVEL ACROSS THE COUNTRY AND MAKE FARMERS UNDERSTAND THE BENEFITS OF AGRI-REFORMS AND BRING ONE LAKH FARMERS TO DELHI IN THE NEXT COUPLE OF MONTHS DEMANDING FARM REFORMS

ANIL GHUMWAT, SC Panel member

"It is important to ensure that while the specific laws may no longer exist, the 'vision' implied in the report to the apex court on March 9, 2020, is not 'diluted', he said.

A senior leader of Shiksha Sangharsha, Ghumwat said after the government's decision to repeal the three farm laws in the coming Winter Session of Parliament, the panel's report is "no longer relevant" but the recommendations are of great public interest.

The report can also play an educational role and ease the misapprehensions of many farmers who have, in his opinion, been misguided by some leaders," he added. The three-member panel had submitted the report to the apex court on March 9.

"This is not the first time Ghumwat is requesting it. In a letter dated September 1, he had requested the CJI to release the report in the public domain saying its recommendations will pave the way to resolve the ongoing farmers' agitation", Ghumwat said in the letter but added that the three farm laws were accepted "in-principle" by protesting farmers but they were not accepted entirely because the government's policy process was not "consultative".

Private hospitals sitting on 10 million unused vax doses

Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

SOHINI DAS & BISHUJA CHATTERJEE/SHI
Mumbai/Chennai, 23 November

Amid dwindling demand and an impending decision on Covid vaccine shots, private hospitals have started to liquidate their vaccine stockpile by giving free shots to citizens. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 45-20 per cent will expire next month, said Gaurihar Goyal, director-general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 2 million Covid vaccine doses likely to get injected in December, leading to a glut in the market, hospitals are giving free shots to citizens. Some hospitals, however, say they will review the situation in the middle of January.

Apart from private hospitals, states and Union Territories have 219 million unused doses available with them as on November 23, which were distributed by the Centre. This is roughly one-third of the total stock, going by the current rate of vaccination.

Private hospitals had gone slow on ordering vaccines since the demand for paid vaccines went down, and have been focusing instead on liquidating available stock.

India's second-largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to review the situation mid-January. "We do not anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock, given the expiry period available," said G. Chinn, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

TAKING STOCK

- 15-20% of estimated 10 mn doses with private hospitals likely to expire in December
- 35-50% fresh order placed by govt hospitals in November
- 300 mn December production of Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech
- 150-200 mn monthly doses administered in India at present
- 219 mt. govt stock with states

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 223 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 17,000 doses.

Several city hospitals have archiving between 10,000 and 20,000 doses lying with them. Hinduja Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer, Joy Chatterjee says they are in a comfortable situation.

Others like Hindanand Hospital have indicated they will wait another two months. If they still have idle stock, they will start giving to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Harsh Mahajan, president, NATHALITHI, and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant amount of stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with free government vaccines.

"Private hospitals are trying their best to liquidate stock by sharing with others in the private sector and also by requesting the government to purchase back the vaccines at cost price. An attempt is also being made to request vaccine manufacturers to take back unused stock, because the quicker those vaccines are injected, the higher the chances of thwarting a third wave of the pandemic," he said.

"Another way in which these stocks may be genuinely utilised is if the government permits booster doses in health care and front line workers who received their first dose over eight months ago and whose immunity may be waning," he added.

Private hospitals are going slow on fresh orders.

"We order our vaccine stocks in a prudent manner, so that we are never overstocked. We are also reaching out to people to take their second dose. While we continue to vaccinate across all our centres in India, the vaccine demand is currently low. We urge all eligible adults to take their vaccine doses and follow Covid-appropriate behaviour," said Bishnu Panigrahi, group head, medical strategy and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

Vaccine exports likely to rise

BISHUJA CHATTERJEE/SHI
New Delhi/Mumbai, 23 November

The central government on Tuesday took stock of the quantity of Covid vaccines available for export, with official sources indicating that vaccine exports are likely to go up as more and more stock becomes available in the country.

The meeting was held between the Ministry of Health and the Department of Pharmaceuticals to get a preliminary picture of available doses with manufacturers.

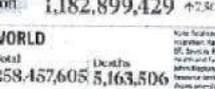

The health ministry will soon be holding talks with the Ministry of External Affairs to settle on the number of countries and amount of doses for export.

Industry sources have also said that pressure is building up on the government to allow exports on a large scale as vaccine stockpile balloons.

At present, states have a stockpile of 219 million unused doses. Private sector hospitals are ordered 30 million doses. However, in the private sector around less than 50% of doses are ready.

The shelf life of vaccines for available stocks is April-May. However, at least 45-20 per cent of the unused stock is expected to expire in December.

Vaccine exports from India were halted amid rising

Covid cases. Supplies to the World Health Organization (WHO)-led COVAX, a global initiative for equitable distribution of Covid vaccines, have begun this month.

India has exported 66.3 million Covid vaccine doses (18 April), of which 10.7 million have been sent as grant assistance for equitable distribution of Covid vaccines, he added.

The Serum Institute of India (SII) supplies to the WHO-led COVAX. While exports to COVAX have started, volumes are expected to pick up in the months to come. The manufacturing partner has to indicate the volume it can make available to COVAX, after which COVAX shares the distribution plan with the vaccine maker, who in turn ships it to the countries COVAX asks it to supply to. SII to increase supplies to COVAX, the Indian government has to new indicate the quantity of doses it can export. The company is already shipping the doses to vaccinees in 120 countries in Indonesia that seek small volumes after the South Asian country approved the shot.

SII has a storage capacity in excess of 100 million doses in a plant in the finished product. It has already requested the government to ensure faster off-take.

Pure-based SII is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 220 million doses a month, while its near Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 55-60 million doses a month.

By December, Bharat Biotech targets 80 million doses a month, raising the combined capacity from these two vaccines to 300 million doses in December-January. On the other hand, the current usage in the country is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving significant capacity unused. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila's 10 million monthly doses are also likely to come on stream, adding to their supplies.

Meanwhile, if you are getting ready to launch its protein subunit vaccine Corbevax with 100 million initial doses from next month or so.

From the first quarter of next calendar year, SII-produced Novovax vaccine is also likely to be available.

Will rally 100K pro-reform farmers: SC panel member

Writes to CJ again, urging early release of committee's report on farm laws

AGENCIES
New Delhi, 23 November

Anil Ghawate, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 100,000 farmers to Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "broadly required agricultural reforms even after the repeal of the three farm laws. He also wrote to Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain at the earliest or announce the committee to do so.

Meanwhile, the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM), the main body spearheading the farmers' agitation, said solidarity rallies are being planned around the world on November 26 by the Indian diaspora as well as international farmers' organisations. These include a protest in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-out in Surrey in Canada in addition to a sleep-out in Vancouver. There have also been plans in Paris, California, San Jose, Vienna and France.

On the reforms, Ghawate said the farmers demand to legalise minimum support price (MSP) a legal guarantee and ensure protection of all agri-crops at MSPs "not feasible and impracticable".

WE WANT REFORMS. I AM GOING TO TRAVEL ACROSS THE COUNTRY AND MAKE FARMERS UNDERSTAND THE BENEFITS OF AGRY-REFORMS AND BRING ONE LAKH FARMERS TO DELHI IN THE NEXT COUPLE OF MONTHS DEMANDING FARM REFORMS

ANIL GHAWATE, SC Panel member

It is important to ensure that while the specific laws may no longer exist, the "reform impulse" that was injected in the three farm laws is not "blatant", he said. A senior leader of Shikari Sangathan, Ghawate said after the government's decision to repeal the three farm laws in the coming Winter Session of Parliament, the panel's report is "a larger reform" and the recommendations are of great public interest.

The report can also play an educational role and ease the misapprehensions of many farmers who have, in his opinion, been misguided by some leaders," he added. The three-member panel had submitted the report to the apex court on March 10.

This is not the first time Ghawate is requesting. In a letter dated September 1, he had requested the CJI to release the report in the public domain saying his recommendations will pave the way to resolve the ongoing farmers' agitation. Ghawate further said in the letter that the three farm laws were accepted "in-principle" by protesting farmers but were not accepted entirely because the government's policy process was not "consultative".

Private hospitals sitting on 10 million unused vax doses

Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

SUNITI DESAI & SUKIRKA CHATTERJHI
Mumbai/Dehradun 23/11/2021

Amid dwindling demand and an impending decision on Covid booster shots, private hospitals have started to liquidate their vaccine stocks by offering free shots to citizens. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 15-20 per cent will expire next month, said Girish Goyal, director general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 2 million Covid vaccine doses likely to expire in December, leading hospital chains have now started to give free shots to citizens. Some hospitals, however, say they will review the situation in the middle of January.

Apart from private hospitals, states and Union Territories have 209 million unused doses stored with them as on November 23, which were distributed by the Centre. This is roughly one month's inventory, going by the current rate of vaccination.

Private hospitals had gone slow on ordering vaccines since the demand for such vaccines went down, and have been focusing instead on liquidating available stock.

India's second largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to review the situation mid-January. "We do not anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock against the expiry period available," said Philip Box, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

TAKING STOCK

15-20% of estimated 10 mn doses with private hospitals likely to expire in December

35-50% fresh order placed by govt hospitals in November

300 mn December production of Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech

150-200 mn monthly doses administered in India at present

219 mn: govt stock with states

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 220 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 17,000 doses.

Several city hospitals have anything between 10,000 and 20,000 doses lying with them. Hinduja Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer Jay Chaturvedi says they are in a comfortable situation.

Oshana Medicare Hospital has indicated they will wait another two months. If they will have the stock, they will start giving it to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Harish Mahajan, president, NATIUMATI, and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant amount of unused stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with free government vaccines.

"Private hospitals are trying their best to liquidate stock by sharing with others in the private sector and also by requesting the government to purchase back the vaccines at cost price. An attempt is also being made to request vaccine manufacturers to take back unused stock, because the quicker these vaccines are injected, the higher the chances of thwarting a third wave of the pandemic," he said.

"Another way in which these stocks may be gainfully utilised is if the government permits booster doses in health care and front-line workers who received their full dose over eight months ago and whose immunity may be waning," he added.

"Private hospitals are going slow on fresh orders. "We order our vaccine stocks in a prudent manner, so that we are never overstocked. We are also reaching out to people to take their second dose. We continue to vaccinate across all our centres in India, the states are currently low. We urge all eligible adults to take their vaccine doses and follow COVID-appropriate behaviour," said Bishu Panigrahi, group head, medical strategy and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

India is already shipping the Novavax vaccine to Europe — in Indonesia this week in small volumes after the South Asian country approved the shot.

SII has a storage capacity in excess of 100 million doses or six to eight months of finished product. It has already requested the government to ensure a reliable supply.

Pain-fused M1 is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 220 million doses a month, while its peer Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 55-60 million doses a month.

By December, Bharat Biotech targets 80 million doses a month, adding the combined capacity for these two vaccines to 300 million doses in December-January. On the other hand, the current usage in the country is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving a significant stock unutilised. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila's 10-million monthly doses are also likely to come on stream, adding further supplies.

Novavax, which is getting ready to launch its own subunit vaccine Corbevax with 100 million initial doses from next month or so. From the last quarter of next calendar year, SII produces the Novavax vaccine is also likely to be available.

Vaccine exports likely to rise

SUNITI DESAI & SUKIRKA CHATTERJHI
New Delhi/Mumbai 23 November

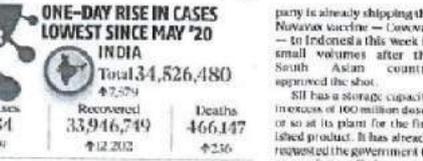

The central government on Tuesday took stock of the quantity of Covid vaccines available for export, with official sources indicating that vaccine exports are likely to go up as more and more stock becomes available in the country.

The meeting was held between the Ministry of Health and the Department of Pharmaceuticals to get a preliminary picture of available doses with manufacturers. The health ministry will start by holding talks with the Ministry of External Affairs to settle on the number of countries and amount of doses for export.

Industry sources have also said that pressure is building to get on the government side to allow export of a large scale as vaccine stockpile balloons.

At present, states have a stockpile of 219 million unused doses. Private sector hospitals have around 80 million doses. In November, 13 private sector ordered less than 50,000 doses.

The shelf life of vaccines for available stock is till April-May. However, at least 15-20 per cent of the unused stock is expected to expire in December.

India has exported 66.3 million Covid vaccine doses till April, of which 10.7 million have gone out as grant from the Indian government. 35.7 million as commercial exports by vaccine makers, and 19.8 million to COVAX.

A source in the Vaccine Industry said, "The production is scaled up, although reduced volumes is a challenge. The shelf life of vaccines for available stock is till April-May. However, at least 15-20 per cent of the unused stock is expected to expire in December."

For a vaccine manufacturing process to happen seamlessly, one has to coordinate the supply chain of the raw material, which begins the batch. We have already reprocessed the existing...

Writes to CJ again, urging early release of committee's report on farm laws

Anil Ghawate, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 100,000 farmers to Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "badly" rural agricultural reforms even after the repeal of the three farm laws.

He also wrote to the Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain (at least or at his/her discretion).

These include a protest in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-out in Surrey in Canada in addition to sleep-outs in Vancouver. Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

SCIENTISTS & MEDICAL CHIEFS TALK

Amid dwindling demand and an impending decision on Covid boosters, private hospitals have started to liquidate their vaccine stockpiles by giving free jabs to citizens. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 15-20 per cent will expire next month, said Girdhar Tyagi, director-general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 2 million Covid vaccine doses likely to get wasted by December, leading hospital chains have now started to give it gratis to citizens. Some hospitals, however, say they will reverse the situation in the middle of January.

India's second-largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to review the situation mid-January. "We do not anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock, given the expiry period available," said Dilip Jose, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 200 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 17000 doses.

Several city hospitals have anything between 10000 and 1,00,000 doses lying with them. Hindia Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer Ajay Chhabra says they are in a comfortable situation.

Others like Himadri Hospital have indicated they will wait another two months. If they still have leftover stock, they will start giving it to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Hareesh Mahajan, president, NATIHEALTH, and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant unused stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with free government vaccines.

"Private hospitals are trying their best to liquidate stock by sharing with others in the private sector and also by requesting the government to purchase back the vaccines at cost price. An attempt is also being made to request manufacturers to take back unused stock, because the quicker these vaccines are injected, the higher the chances of thwarting a third wave of the pandemic," he said.

"Another way in which these stocks may be suitably utilised is if the government permits booster doses in health care and front-line workers who received their full dose over eight months ago and whose immunity may be waning," he added.

Private hospitals are going slow on fresh orders. "We order our vaccine stocks in a prudent manner, so that we are not overstocked. We are also reaching out to people to take their second dose. While we continue to vaccinate across all our centres in India, the volumes are currently low. We urge all eligible adults to take their vaccine doses and follow Covid-appropriate behaviour," said Bishu Panigrahy, group head, medical strategy and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

Vaccine exports likely to rise

India is already shipping the Novavax vaccine - Govind

→ India this week in small volumes after the South Asian country approved the shot.

SKM has a storage capacity in excess of 100 million doses or so at its plant for the finished product. It has already requested the government to ensure fast or off-take.

France-based SKI is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 220 million doses a month, while its peer Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 55-60 million doses a month.

By December, Bharat Biotech targets 80 million doses a month, taking the combined capacity from these two vaccine makers to 300 million doses in December.

On the other hand, the current volume in the country is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving significant stock under-utilised. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila is likely to increase its production of monthly doses and also likely to come on stream, adding to other volumes.

Biological E, too, is getting ready to launch its protein subunit vaccine Corbevax with 100 million initial doses from December. From the first quarter of next calendar year, SKI-produced Novavax vaccine is also likely to be available.

New Delhi, 23 November

The central government on Tuesday took stock of the quantity of Covid vaccines available for export, with official sources indicating that vaccine exports are likely to go up as more and more stock becomes available in the country.

The meeting was held between the Ministry of Health and the Department of Pharmaceuticals to get a preliminary picture of available doses with manufacturers. The health ministry will soon be holding talks with the Ministry of External Affairs to settle on the number of countries and amount of doses for export.

Industry sources have also said that pressure is building up on the government to allow exports on a large scale as vaccine stockpile balloons.

At present, states have a stockpile of 219 million unused doses. Private sector hospitals have around 10 million doses. In November, the private sector ordered less than 500,000 doses.

The shelf life of vaccines for private stocks till April-May. However, at least 15-20 per cent of the unused stock is expected to expire in December.

Vaccine exports from India were halted amid rising

ing lines to make Covid jabs. Now they cannot be suddenly switched back. If one has a long-term view of demand, then regulate adjustments can be made on production," he added.

The Serum Institute of India (SII) supplies to the WHO-led COVAX initiative. While exports to COVAX have started, volumes are expected to pick up in the months to come. The manufacturing partner has to indicate the volume it can make available to COVAX, after which COVAX shares the distribution plan with the vaccine maker.

Who in turn ships it to the countries COVAX asks it to supply. For SII to increase supplies to COVAX, the Indian government has to now indicate the quantity of doses it can export. The com-

Will rally 100K pro-reform farmers: SC panel member

Writes to CJ again, urging early release of committee's report on farm laws

AGENCIES
New Delhi, 23 November

Anil Ghawate, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 100,000 farmers to Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "broadly" required agriculture reforms after the repeal of the three farm laws.

He also wrote to the Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain at the earliest or authorise the committee to do so.

Meanwhile, the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM), the main body spearheading the farmers' agitation, said daily rallies are being planned around the world on November 26 by the Indian diaspora as well as international farmers organisations. These include a protest in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-out in Surrey in Canada in addition to a sleep-out in Vancouver. Protests have also been planned in Paris, California, San Jose, Vietnam and France. A senior leader of SKM, Ghawate said the farmers' demand to make MSP a guaranteed price (NSIP) a legal guarantee and ensure procurement of all crops at MSP is "not feasible and implementable".

WE WANT REFORMS. I AM GOING TO TRAVEL ACROSS THE COUNTRY AND MAKE FARMERS UNDERSTAND THE BENEFITS OF AGRI-REFORMS AND BRING ONE LAKH FARMERS TO DELHI IN THE NEXT COUPLE OF MONTHS DEMANDING FARM REFORMS

ANIL GHAWATE, SC Panel member

It is important to ensure that while the specific laws may no longer exist, the "farm impulse" that was reflected in the three farm laws is not "diluted", he said. A senior leader of SKM, Ghawate said after the government's decision to repeal the three farm laws in the coming Winter Session of Parliament, the panel's report is "no longer relevant" and the recommendations are of great public interest.

The report can also play an educational role and ease the misperceptions of many farmers who have, in his opinion, been misguided by some leaders," he added. The three-member panel had submitted the report to the apex court on March 19.

This is not the first time Ghawate is requesting it. In a letter dated September 1, he had requested the CJI to release the report to the public, demanding the "recommendations will pave the way to resolve the ongoing farmers' agitation". Ghawate further said in the latest letter that the three farm laws were accepted "in principle" by protesting farmers but were not accepted because the government's policy process was not "consultative".

Private hospitals sitting on 10 million unused vax doses

Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

Mumbai | Published 23 November

Amid dwindling demand and an impending decision to extend free shots, private hospitals have started to liquidate their vaccine stockpiles by giving free jobs to citizens. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 65-70 per cent will expire next month, said a leading Covid expert, director-general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 2 million Covid vaccine doses likely to get wasted in December, leading hospital chains have now started to give it gratis to citizens. Some hospitals, however, say they will review the situation in the middle of January.

Apart from private hospitals, states and Union Territories have 219 million unused doses available with them as on November 23, which were distributed by the Centre. This is roughly one-month's inventory, going by the current rate of vaccination.

Private hospitals had gone slow on ordering vaccines since the demand for paid vaccines went down, and have been focusing instead on liquidating available stocks.

India's second-largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to reduce the stockpile by January. "We do not anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock, given the expiry period available," said Dilip Datta, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 220 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 17,000 doses.

Several city hospitals have anything between 10,000 and 25,000 doses lying with them. Hindia Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer Joy Chatterjee says they are in a comfortable situation.

Director Hiranandani Hospital has indicated they will use another two months. If they still have the stock, they will start giving it to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Harsh Mahajan, president, NATHIHALTI, and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant unused stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with the government vaccine. SII has a storage capacity in excess of 100 million doses or so at its plant for the finished product. It has already requested the government to ensure faster approvals.

Pune-based SII is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 220 million doses a month now, while its peer Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 55-60 million doses a month.

Bharat Biotech targets 89 million doses a month, taking the combined capacity from these two vaccines to 300 million doses in December-January. On the other hand, the volume in the US market is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving a significant stock under-utilised. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila's 20 million monthly doses are also likely to come on stream, adding further volumes.

Biological E, too, is getting ready to launch its protein subunit vaccine Corbevax with 100 million initial doses from next month or so. From the first quarter of next calendar year, SII produced Novavax vaccine is also likely to be available.

Anil Ghai, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 100,000 farmers to Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "truly" required agricultural reforms even after the repeal of the three farm laws.

He also wrote to the Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain at the earliest or authorise the committee to do so.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka Kisan Mancha (KSM), the main body spearheading the farmers' agitation, said solidarity events are being planned across the world on November 26 by the Indian diaspora as well as international farmers' organisations. These include protests in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-out in Surrey in Canada in addition to a sleep-out in Vancouver. Protests have also been planned in Paris, California, San Jose, Vienna and France.

In a similar move, Ghai, said, the farmers' demand to make the government support price (MSP) a legal guarantee and ensure procurement of all crops at MSP is "not feasible and implementable".

ANIL GHAI, SC Panel member

It is important to ensure that while the specific laws may no longer exist, the "reform impulse" that was reflected in the three farm laws is not "diluted", he said.

A senior leader of the Shikhar Sanghatana, Ghai, said after the government's decision to repeal the three farm laws in the coming Winter Session of Parliament, the panel's report is "a larger reform" than the recommendations of great public interest.

"The report can also play an educational role and ease the misperceptions of many farmers who have, in my opinion, been misled by some leaders," he added. The three-member panel had submitted the report to the apex court on March 19.

This is not the first time Ghai, who is requesting it in a letter dated September 1, had requested the CJI to release the report to the public domain saying its "recommendations will pave the way to resolve the ongoing farmers' agitation".

Ghai, who is also a member of the panel, said that the three farm laws were accepted "in-principle" by protesting farmers but were accepted only because the government's policy process was "consultative".

Private hospitals sitting on 10 million unused vax doses

Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

SHRUTI DAS & RICHIKA CHITRAVASHI

Mumbai/New Delhi, 23 November

Amid dwindling demand and an impending decision on whether to extend, private hospitals have started to liquidate their free vaccine stock nearing expiry by giving free jobs to citizens. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 15-20 per cent will expire next month, said Girish Goyal, director-general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 2 million Covax vaccine doses likely to get wasted in December, leading hospital chains have now started to give it gratis to citizens. Some hospitals, however, say they will review the situation in the middle of January.

Apart from private hospitals, AHP and Union Territories have 219 million unused doses available with them as on November 23, which were distributed by the Centre. This is roughly one-month's inventory, going by the current rate of vaccination.

Private hospitals had gone slow on ordering vaccines since the demand for paid vaccines went down, and have been focusing instead on liquidating available stock.

India's second-largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to review the situation in January. "We don't anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock given the expiry period available," said Dilip Goe, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

TAKING STOCK

15-20% of estimated 10 mn doses with private hospitals likely to expire in December

35-50% fresh order placed by private hospitals in November

300 mn December production of Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech

150-200 mn mandatory doses administered in India at present

219 mn govt stock with states

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 220 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 17,000 doses.

Several city hospitals have something between 10,000 and 20,000 doses lying with them. Hinduja Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer Joy Chakrabarty says they are in a comfortable situation.

Others like Hirsanand Hospital have indicated that they will offer two months. If they still have idle stock, they will start giving it to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Tarsh Mahajan, president, NATHEALTH, and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant amount of stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with free government vaccines.

"Private hospitals are trying their best to liquidate stock by sharing with others in the private sector and also by requesting the government to purchase back the vaccines at cost price. An attempt is also being made to request vaccine manufacturers to take back unused stock, because if they do, then these vaccines are injected, the higher the chances of thwarting a third wave of the pandemic," he said.

"Another way in which these stocks may be utilised is if the government, through its free vaccine programmes, provides booster doses in health camps and from time to time received their full dose over eight months ago and whose immunity may be waning," he added.

Private hospitals are going slow on fresh orders.

"Under our vaccine stocks in a prudent manner, as that we are never overstocked. We are also reaching out to people to take their second dose. While we continue to vaccinate across all our centres in India, the volumes are currently low. We urge all eligible adults to take their vaccine doses and follow COVID-appropriate guidelines," said Hishma Faruqi, group head, medical strategy and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

Vaccine exports likely to rise

BUCHHA ON THIRAIKATHI & SHRUTI DAS

New Delhi/Mumbai, 23 November

The central government on Tuesday took stock of the quantity of Covid vaccines available for export, with official sources indicating that vaccine exports are likely to go up as more and more stock becomes available in the country.

The meeting was held between the Ministry of Health and the Department of Pharmaceuticals to get a preliminary picture of available doses with manufacturers. The health ministry liaison is holding talks with the Ministry of External Affairs to settle on the number of countries and amount of doses for export.

Industry sources have also said that pressure is building up on the government to allow exports on a large scale as vaccine stockpile nations.

At present, states have a stockpile of 219 million unused doses. Private sector hospitals have around 10 million doses. In November, the private sector ordered less than 500,000 doses.

The shift in the vaccine market is likely to be significant. In May, 15-20 per cent of the unused stockpile is expected to expire in December.

India has exported 16.3 million Covid vaccine doses till April, of which 10.2 million have gone out as grant from the Indian government. 35.7 million as commercial exports by vaccine makers and 1.8 million to COVAX.

A source in the vaccine industry said once production is scaled up, abruptly reducing volumes is a challenge.

"For a vaccine manufacturer, the process to happen smoothly one has to coordinate the supply chain of the raw material, and then begin one batch. We have already repurchased the existing lines to make Covid jabs. Now they cannot be suddenly switched back. If one has a long-term view of demand, then requisite adjustments can be made on production," he added.

The Serum Institute of India (SII) supplies to the WHO-led COVAX initiative. While exports to COVAX have started, volumes are expected to pick up in the months to come. The manufacturing partner has indicated that the volume it can make available to COVAX, after which COVAX shares the distribution (with the vaccine maker, who, in turn, ships it to the countries). COVAX asks it to supply in four $100 increments. From the first quarter of the next calendar year, SII-produced Novavax vaccine is also likely to be available.

Meanwhile, SII is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 280 million doses a month now, while its peer Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 55-60 million doses a month.

By December, Bharat Biotech targets 80 million doses a month, taking the combined capacity of these two vaccines to 300 million doses in December-January. Over the other hand, the current stock in the country is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving a significant stock under-utilised. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila's 100 million monthly production will come on stream, adding further volumes.

Meanwhile, SII is getting ready to launch its protein subunit vaccine Covovax with 300 million initial doses from next month or so. The vaccine is also likely to come in the next calendar year. SII-produced Novavax vaccine is also likely to be available.

Will rally 100K pro-reform farmers: SC panel member

Writes to CJ again, urging early release of committee's report on farm laws

ANIL GHANWAT, SC Panel member

Anil Ghawat, a farmer leader who is one of the members of a Supreme Court-appointed panel on farm laws, on Tuesday said he will mobilise 100,000 farmers in Delhi in the next couple of months, demanding the "broadly" revised agriculture reforms even after the repeal of the farm laws.

He also wrote to the Chief Justice of India (CJI), urging him to consider releasing the report on the farm laws in the public domain at the earliest or authorise the committee to do so.

WE WANT REFORMS. I AM GOING TO TRAVEL ACROSS THE COUNTRY AND MAKE FARMERS UNDERSTAND THE BENEFITS OF AGRI-REFORMS AND BRING ONE LAKH FARMERS TO DELHI IN THE NEXT COUPLE OF MONTHS DEMANDING FARM REFORMS

ANIL GHANWAT, SC Panel member

Meanwhile, the Santyuka Kisan Morcha (SKM), the main body spearheading the farmers' agitation, said solidarity events are being planned around the world on November 26 by the Indian diaspora as well as international farmers' organisations. These include a protest in London at the Indian High Commission, a sleep-out in Surrey in Canada in addition to a sleep-out in Vancouver. Protests have also been planned in Paris, California, San Jose, Vermont and France.

On the reforms, Ghawat said the farmers' demand to make minimum support price (MSP) a legal guarantee and ensure procurement of all agri-crops at MSPs "not feasible and implementable".

It is important to ensure that while the specific laws may no longer exist, the "reform impulse" that was reflected in the three farm laws is not "diluted", he said.

A senior leader of Shikari Sangathan, Ghawat said after the government's decision to repeal the three farm laws in the coming Winter Session of Parliament, the panel's report is "no longer relevant" but the recommendations are of great public interest.

The report can also play an educational role and ease the misapprehensions of many farmers who have, in his opinion, been misled by some leaders, he added. The three-member panel had submitted the report to the apex court on March 19.

This is not the first time Ghawat is requesting it. In a letter dated September 1, he had requested the CJI to release the report in the public domain saying its recommendations will pave the way to resolve the ongoing farmers' agitation.

Ghawat further said in the latest letter that the three farm laws were accepted "in-principle" by protesting farmers but were not accepted entirely because the government's policy process was "not complete".

Private hospitals sitting on 10 million unused vax doses

Close to 2 million may expire in December; hospitals start giving free shots

Healthcare | Nov 23 | Feature

Amid dwindling demand and an impending deadline on Covid booster shots, private hospitals have started to liquidate their vaccine stockpiles, either by giving free jobs to children. Private hospitals are sitting on 10 million unused doses, of which 15-20 per cent will expire next month, said Gaurav Goyal, director-general of the Association of Healthcare Providers (AHP).

With around 1.2 million Covid vaccine doses likely to get wasted in December, leading hospital chairs have now started to give 100,000 to 200,000 doses to children in the middle of January.

Apart from private hospitals, states and union territories have 191 million unused doses available with them as on November 23, which were distributed by the Centre. This is roughly one-month's inventory, going by the current rate of vaccination.

Private hospitals had gone slow on ordering vaccines since the demand for paid vaccines went down, and have been focusing instead on liquidating available stocks.

India's second-largest private hospital chain Manipal Group said it plans to review the situation mid-January. "We do not anticipate an issue with our vaccine stock given the expiry period available," said Dilip Jose, managing director (MD), Manipal Hospitals.

TAKING STOCK

35-50K fresh order placed by govt hospitals in November

300 mn December production of Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech

150-200 mn monthly doses administered in India at present

219 mn; govt stock with states

Last weekend, Bombay Hospital started giving free vaccine doses. On Friday, 220 people received free shots. The hospital is sitting on an inventory of 1,20,000 doses.

Several city hospitals have anything between 10,000 and 20,000 doses lying with them. Hindia Hospital, for example, has around 15,000 doses with an April-May date of expiration. The hospital's Chief Operating Officer Joy Chatterjee says they are in a comfortable situation.

Others like Hiranandani Hospital have indicated they will wait another two months. They still have doses, they will start giving to the hospital staff and the elderly.

Harsh Mahajan, president, NATHI (All India), and founder and MD of Mahajan Imaging, said a significant amount of stock in the private sector is due to the relatively high cost, compared with free government vaccine.

"Private hospitals are trying their best to liquidate stock by sharing with others in the private sector and also by requesting the government to purchase back the vaccines at cost price. An attempt is also being made to request vaccine manufacturers to take back unused stock, because the quicker these vaccines are injected, the higher the chances of averting a third wave of the pandemic," he said.

"Another way in which these stocks may be profitably utilised is if the government permits booster doses in health care and front-line workers who receive these vaccines. They are eight months ago and whose immunity may be waning," he added.

Private hospitals are going slow on fresh orders. "We order our vaccine stocks in a prudent manner, so that we are never overstocked. We are also reaching out to people to take their second dose. While we continue to vaccinate across all our centres in India, the volumes are currently low. We urge eligible adults to take their vaccine doses and follow Covid-appropriate behaviour," said Bishnu Parmar, group head, medical services and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

Vaccine exports likely to rise

RUCHIKA CHITTAVANSHI & SOHNI DAS

Healthcare | Nov 23 | Feature

The central government on Tuesday took stock of the quantity of Covid vaccines available for export, with official sources indicating that vaccine exports are likely to go up as more and more stock becomes available in the country.

The meeting was held between the Ministry of Health and the Department of Pharmaceuticals to get a preliminary picture of available doses with manufacturers. The health ministry is soon bidding calls with the Ministry of External Affairs to settle on the number of countries and amount of doses for export.

Industry sources have also said that the private is building up on the government to allow exports on a large scale as vaccine stockpile balloons.

At present, states have a stockpile of 200 million unused doses. Private hospitals have around 10 million doses. In November, the private sector ordered less than 50,000 shots.

The shelf life of vaccines for available stocks till April-May. However, at least 15-20 per cent of the vaccine stock is expected to expire in December.

Vaccine exports from India were halted amid rising

India is already shipping the Novavax vaccine - Covovax - to Indonesia this week in small volumes after the South Asian country approved the shot.

SII has a storage capacity in excess of 100 million doses or so at its plant for the finished product. It has already requested the government to ensure faster inflow.

Pune-based SII is leading the pack when it comes to the production of Covid shots. It is making 200 million doses a month, while its peer Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech is making 65-60 million doses a month.

From Hyderabad, Bharat Biotech targets one million doses a month, taking the combined capacity from these two vaccines to 300 million doses in December-January. On the other hand, the current output in the country is around 150-200 million doses a month, leaving a significant stock unutilised. From December, Ahmedabad-based Zydus Cadila's 10 million monthly doses are also likely to come in the country, adding further volumes.

Biological E, Inc. is getting ready to launch its protein subunit vaccine Corbevax with 100 million initial doses from next month or so.

Covovax, the first quarter of next calendar year, SII-produced Novavax vaccine, is also likely to be available.
